Associates of Science in Biology Nutrition accepted at San Antonio College Students can now officially declare themselves a Nutrition major at SAC, as SAC now offers an Associates of Science in Biology Nutrition. I strongly encourage all Project La Cena majors to change their major officially to Nutrition, at SAC, so that there is a clear vision that Project La Cena is a grant that needs to remain in existence to assist Nutrition majors.

San Antonio Dietetic Association (SADA) Memberships still available!
NLC, SAC, Texas State, and UIW students interested in obtaining a FREE membership to SADA can click HERE to apply.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Starting Fall 2010, students can begin submitting applications for the Spring 2011 $40,000 transfer scholarship. In addition, Project La Cena is also offering 6 $1,000 transfer scholarships, and 16 $750 scholarships. Even better, you can apply for all of these scholarships using the same application. I highly encourage EVERYONE, who is interested in obtaining a degree in Nutrition, to apply for these scholarships as we have plenty to go around. I also encourage students to start the application process now, so that there is time for the project manager to go over the scholarship packet with you. Feel free to contact me if you have any questions regarding our scholarships or application process. For the scholarship website, click HERE.
